

GUS HOLMES SUES FOR A DIVORCE

Brings Case in Court Here, Basing Complaint on Desertion by Her.

WIFE IS IN CALIFORNIA EFFORTS MADE TO KEEP ACTION SECRET.

Gus S. Holmes, proprietor of the Knutsford hotel and one of the best known business men in Salt Lake, is suing his wife, Charlotte S. Holmes, for divorce. The complaint in the case was filed April 21, through some sleight of hand performance in the county clerk's office, knowledge that it had been filed was carefully concealed from the public. The fact that Mr. Holmes had instituted the suit leaked out yesterday.

The complaint is a brief one, and merely charges Mrs. Holmes with deserting her husband. It sets forth that they were married at Cincinnati, O., May 28, 1885, and that for a year preceding the filing of the complaint his wife had deserted him and refused to live with him. It asks for a decree of divorce, and that the custody of the 17-year-old son of the parties, Dwight L. Holmes, be awarded to the father. Howat & MacMillan are attorneys for Mr. Holmes.

Wife Is in California.
The record in the case shows that the wife was served with a copy of the complaint at Santa Monica, Cal., April 20, two days after the complaint was filed. An order was secured providing for the service of summons by publication, but evidently that program was changed and personal service was made.

As yet no decree has been entered in the case, but the record is in shape to grant a decree at any time that the case can be set. While the filing of the divorce suit is no surprise to the immediate friends of the parties concerned, it will come as a surprise to the public. The most scrupulous in the county clerk's office to keep the fact that the suit had been filed from becoming public.

Lived Here Many Years.
Gus Holmes came here from Colorado about twenty years ago, and has been engaged in the hotel business here ever since. He is a large property owner. Some years ago, when the Angelus hotel was built in Los Angeles, he took charge of that hostelry. Later, however, he sold his business there, since which time he has confined his business to Salt Lake.

WHAT WRETCH HATH DONE IT

Police and Actors Equally Indignant Over Practical Joke Played on Both.

It has just leaked out that some practical joker played a mean trick on the Orpheum stock company and the police force about 4:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the great battle scene in "Shenandoah" was in full swing. Somebody telephoned to the station that there was a gunfight in progress at the rear of the Orpheum. Instantly every available officer and the patrol wagon rushed into the alley, followed by an excited crowd. When they arrived the shooting was at its height, and every one on the stage was yelling to the top of his voice, including the women.

Without wasting any time the officers rushed into the wings and the audience the next moment had not Gus Mortimer and the stage hands pulled them back.

The subsequent language used by the members of the company and the policemen is said to have been scandalous, and now there is a box of cigars promised for the man who divulged the identity of the practical joker.

GARBAGE DUMP IS A DISGRACE

Residents West of River Protest Against Methods of the City Health Department.

NASTY MESS IS SET AFIRE JUDGE JAMES A. MINER MAKES VISIT OF INSPECTION.

City garbage dumped on vacant city property west of the white bridge on North Temple street has become such a nuisance that property owners and residents in that section of the city, appeared before the sanitary committee of the city council last night and protested against it.

The "American" health department claims that only such garbage as cannot be burned in the city crematory is dumped. The chief complaint of the residents in that section of the city is, however, that in some manner the garbage on the vacant lot has caught fire, and that the odor from the burning mass is a disagreeable nature that they have almost been driven from their homes.

Would Arrest Private Citizen.
The protesters pointed out last night that, were any private citizen to set fire to a pile of garbage on his lot and let it smolder day in and day out, he would promptly be arrested for maintaining a nuisance. They declared that efforts to extinguish the flames were unavailing.

Health Commissioner M. R. Stewart, who is responsible for the fact that the three city employees at the crematory have a sincere interest in a better city, and tried to argue that children playing in the neighborhood are guilty of setting the garbage on fire. This is denied by the parents of the children.

Fire Department Called In.
It was decided that the fire department should be sent down to the dump this morning to extinguish the fire and wet down the garbage thoroughly so that it will not catch fire again. People living in the vicinity are much wrought up over the matter, and are criticizing Dr. Stewart's administration.

The fact that the stuff could be consumed in the furnace heat of the crematory is proven by the fact that it will burn slowly in the open air.

Joseph Mellen, who is paid a salary by the city for watching the dump, spends little of his time there, according to the universal testimony of residents of that section of the city.

These will be promptly destroyed, and the balance of the herd as well as the premises will be thoroughly tested for the disease.

They were charged with being particularly abusive when the officers tried to arrest them.

Hardy pleaded guilty and will be sentenced this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Houghton pleaded not guilty, and will be tried Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. He is said to have been in trouble for a similar offense before.

The city ticket office, corner at 915 Market street, will be in the Flood building also. The ticket agencies of a number of eastern railroads probably will take quarters on the ground floor of the same building.

Judge Morse issued a temporary restraining order, and made it returnable June 23.

NEW BEET CROP IS SATISFACTORY

No Blight in the Fields of Utah and Southern Idaho This Year.

YIELD WILL BE LARGE JUDGE JAMES A. MINER MAKES VISIT OF INSPECTION.

Judge James A. Miner has returned from a visit of inspection to the beet fields of Utah and southern Idaho. Judge Miner went out to ascertain whether or not the rumors of blight in the crop had any foundation in fact. Greatly to his satisfaction, he found that the reports were all untrue, as he is interested in the sugar industry.

There is no blight in the beet fields this year, said Judge Miner. "I satisfied myself on that point. Wherever I went I found the condition of the growing crop to be entirely satisfactory. The beet roots around Nampa, Idaho, where 3,000 acres have been put in, are now as thick as a man's wrist, and they are growing luxuriantly. The factory at Nampa will work them up next fall, for it will be ready by that time to begin operations. It looks as if there will be a yield of from fifteen to sixteen tons per acre, which is phenomenal."

"In all of Idaho perhaps 15,000 to 16,000 acres of land are in beets, and it must be said that there was never a better prospect for an abundant harvest. The farmers are more than pleased at the outlook. Another thing that impressed me was the way in which the fields are being looked after. The greatest care is being exercised in cultivation. Capital to the amount of $300,000 has been invested by eastern capitalists recently in sugar beets, and the demand is growing."

The passage of the denatured alcohol bill will be of benefit to the distilleries, because they will be able to utilize what has been a waste product in more of their distilleries. The denatured alcohol, which may now be put on the market without the payment of a tax, it is estimated, will save the distilleries of many thousands of dollars a year to the beet sugar factories in Utah and Idaho."

TEACHER FOUND GUILTY

Judge Diehl Imposes $20 Fine on Marion Van Cott for Beating Duane Walker.

Marion Van Cott, principal of the Waterloo district school, was found guilty by Judge C. B. Diehl yesterday morning of assault and battery upon Duane Walker, 12 years of age. The court imposed a fine of $20, which was paid by the defendant.

The case occupied the attention of the court for several days. The plaintiff was whipped three times with a strap by Principal Van Cott in one day for sitting in the front of the class. He was also detained after school and during recess time by his teacher, who said she was unable to do anything with him. In court the child showed the effects of the whipping he received, which the court found was too severe.

SCHOOL NEEDS $20,000.

State Industrial Institution at Ogden Is in Want of Funds.

The state industrial school at Ogden will probably require $20,000 in excess of the amount appropriated for it by the last legislature to run it until another appropriation can be made by the next legislature. The trustees of the institution appeared before the state board of examiners yesterday and asked that they be allowed to draw $25,000 from the sum. Their request was a verbal one. They were requested to make out an itemized statement of the school's needs and present it to the board at a meeting to be held later.

The maintenance fund of the institution is about exhausted. The trustees explain this on the ground that the number of pupils committed to the school has increased from 25 to 45 in the past year. The balance of the money is wanted to make improvements of various kinds which the trustees believe to be necessary.

Those who appeared before the board of examiners yesterday were: Dr. E. M. Conroy, T. E. Evans and Harry S. Joseph, members of the board of trustees; C. R. Hollingsworth, secretary of the board, and H. H. Thomas, superintendent of the school.

MAIN STREET CORNER SOLD

M. B. Lichtenstein Becomes the Owner of Valuable Lot at Main and Fourth South.

PRICE PAID WAS $40,000 IS ONE OF CITY'S MOST VALUABLE BUSINESS LOCATIONS.

Most of the recent property sales of importance have been in the vicinity of Third and Fourth South streets, and it is in this part of the town that the greatest activity has prevailed. Yesterday one of the finest corners on Main street changed hands when M. B. Lichtenstein purchased the lot at the northwest corner of Main and Fourth South from Henry Newell. The property is 48 1/2 feet on Main and 97 feet on Fourth South. The price paid was $40,000, and the sale was made through Little & Little. Considering the price at which property has been sold in this part of the town, the price is considered a very reasonable one. Several lots on Main street in the neighborhood are held at an even higher figure. For some of these negotiations are now in progress and the transactions may be closed this week.

Mr. Lichtenstein, who purchased the property yesterday, says that as soon as he can he will erect a modern business block on the premises. There are but small blocks at this present, and these will be torn down as soon as the leases expire and replaced by a modern building. He has not fully decided as to the kind of building, but says it will be up to date in every respect.

"I bought the property for investment," said Mr. Lichtenstein. "I consider that the price was very low, considering that corner property in Salt Lake means more money in cities where they have smaller blocks. The portion of the town where it is located is going to be a leading business center, and I do not believe there is a better proposition in Salt Lake than property in that locality."

A York Steamer Transfer.

Hiram Yeager yesterday sold to C. J. Diehl the property at 425 York street, which consists of four lots, the whole being 100 by 125 feet. There is a six-roomed brick cottage on these lots. The price paid was $2,500, and the sale was made through the Capital Real Estate & Investment company.

PAINTINGS OF THE SEA

Four Pictures by Norton, Now on Exhibition in Ladies' Literary Club.

A notable addition to the William Morris exhibition, now on view at the Ladies' Literary club rooms, 20 Third East street, are four marine paintings by the justly celebrated artist, William E. Norton. Mr. Norton received honorable mention at the Paris salon for his painting "The Sea." The themes of Mr. Norton's paintings are quite varied, although they are all so much crisscrossed by the sea that the "Grand Banks" is the title of the up-right picture. A ship under full sail and a sunset scene are the subjects of the other two. Every sail is set except the lee foremast studding sail. The wind, sea and sky are all in a state of commotion. Every sail is set except the lee foremast studding sail. The wind, sea and sky are all in a state of commotion.

Another of Mr. Norton's creations is a scene of a ship at anchor in a bay, with a sunset scene. The sea is in a state of commotion. Every sail is set except the lee foremast studding sail. The wind, sea and sky are all in a state of commotion.

The lovers of art in Salt Lake have a great treat in store if they wish to avail themselves of this opportunity. The admission to the exhibition is free, and Mr. Morris will be here another week before starting to exhibit in other cities.

WASN'T CROSSLEY'S SISTER

Man Accused of Fraud Admits That He Palmed Off Woman on Ben Heywood.

Harry J. Crossley, alias Lake, accused of defrauding Landlord Ben Heywood of the Cullen hotel out of a $57 hotel bill, arrived in Salt Lake from Kemmerer, Wyo., yesterday morning, in custody of Sheriff Axel Holmboe. He came without requisition papers.

On the way to Salt Lake Crossley admitted to Mr. Steele that the woman who stayed at the Cullen with him for several weeks was his sister. It was on the strength of Crossley having his sister with him together with his assurance that he intended building a skating rink here, that Mr. Heywood extended him so much credit.

Crossley refused to divulge the girl's right name to Steele, and her whereabouts are unknown. Crossley says she is a good family. He says he wishes to pay Heywood the $57 which he owes him, and thus escape prosecution. It is unlikely that either Mr. Heywood or the county authorities will consent to drop the prosecution. Crossley has friends at Kemmerer, and they are willing to advance the money.

The "sister" is said to be in Ogden. She came from a Cullen family, and left her trunk behind her.
